

Rec'd
4-5-2021

Dear _____ Dick,

Enclosed are several items from the internet about Biden concerning his problems. He and his puppeteers were naïve about the logistics needed to care for their massive importation of illegal immigrants. Now they languish in overcrowded cages [made in Obama's term] awaiting relocation somewhere in the states. Some are carrying the covid virus to mingle with Americans, which can easily start another imported covid pandemic. Biden knows he created a crisis he cannot cope with so he dumped it in Harris's lap.

Another pandemic would presumably be welcomed by Democrats and Fauci so they can extend the lockdowns and unemployment, requiring more stimulus funds for dependence on Uncle Sam and to continue to crush individual initiative and ambition for their chronic march toward a socialist "utopia".

His speech is so incoherent at times that he fumbles, jumbles, mumbles uh, uh, uh, what am I doing here? He can't remember the name of his Secretary of Defense, uh, uh, uh, the guy who runs that outfit overthere. Many Democrats tried to get him to share the nuclear codes because he is such a forgetful loose cannon. Reporters ask him mushy lovey-dovey questions like "What's the first sweet thing you will eat after lent"? "How's your dog doing"? "What is like to be President"? Compare that to the snarky 4-year long questions from Jim Acosta and others intended to ambush Trump.

It is such a National Joke that we could elect this naïve person with dementia who can shoot from the lip without aiming first. You mentioned you support all or most of his actions-???? When he was elected gas was around $2.12, now 2 months later it's around 50 cents higher, and he is just getting started. He campaigned on a transparent administration, but it is quite opaque, masking the media wanting to cover his border crisis.

He also said he was going to create jobs but the first thing he did was fire 11,000 union pipeline workers with many thousands more collateral jobs, with no other jobs in mind except making 'solar panels'. He lacks the backbone to force teachers back to work. Unions and money are worth much more to him than a child's education. Are Democrats happy with Biden's avaricious quest?

Dick, I could go on and on but will stop here. You get my message. "