

A Few Quotes on Love

Life has taught us that love does not consist in gazing at each other, but in looking outward in the same direction.

Antoine de St. Exupery

"Some people care too much. I think it's called love." — A.A. Milne, Winnie-the-Pooh

'Sometimes,' said Pooh, 'the smallest things take up the most room in your heart.'

— A.A. Milne, Winnie-the-Pooh

His parents were linked together by a love as direct and mute as a beam of light, and very few of Brendan's joys equaled that of coming between them and feeling him pierced by that beam.

John Hassler, Grand Opening

What Love Means to very young children:

'When someone loves you, the way they say your name is different. You just know that your name is safe in their mouth.' -Billy, age 4

For one human being to love another; that is perhaps the most difficult of all our tasks, the ultimate, the last test and proof, the work for which all other work is but preparation.

Rainer Maria Rilke

Love consists in this, that two solitudes protect and touch and greet each other.

Rainer Maria Rilke

Married couples who love each other tell each other a thousand things without talking."

- Chinese Proverb

Successful marriage requires falling in love many times, always with the same person.

- German Greer

It's All I Have to Bring To-day

It's all I have to bring to-day,
This, and my heart beside,
This, and my heart, and all the fields,
And all the meadows wide.
Be sure you count, should I forget, --
Someone the sun could tell, --
This, and my heart, and all the bees
Which in the clover dwell.

–Emily Dickinson
